The End of Yesterday

Yesterday is gone.
Its joys, its sorrows, billow into a cloud of fond memories.

Its worries and elations mark stepping stones from infancy to adulthood.

Yesterday's dreams begin early.
They start with your first friend,
continuing through to your last.

They nourish themselves on happy moments, and sad times you try to forget,
But never can.

They learn to walk on school's first
day,
Stumbling and falling over books,
Homework, and teachers.

Yesterday's dreams hold your first
love,
Your first date, your first formal,
and prom.

Orientation, football, basketball,
Homecoming, Mardi Gras, Prom,
Melt into that warm glow inside.

Yesterday is gone.
and thoughtfully we remember, and we laugh, and maybe even cry-a little.

The End of Yesterday ...
For a teacher, the end of friendships;
The beginning of the life of each of his students.
For in each student is a part of every teacher
he has ever had ...
The End of Yesterday, or the Beginning of Tomorrow?

The End of Yesterday ...
Each senior is a book that has just been published,
Open to critics and the world.
Each teacher is an author
Anxious to see the reviews ...
The End of Yesterday, or the Beginning of Tomorrow?

The End of Yesterday ..
The time when a teacher sends a part of himself out into the world.
With every senior carrying with him something of that part.
But it is also the time when he must realize that he has shaped each student the best he could,
And what each one makes of himself is up to the individual.
Whether he is a failure or a success depends on how he uses
That knowledge each teacher has passed on to him ...
The End of Yesterday, or the Beginning of Tomorrow?

Am I a senior?
Was it just three years ago that I first entered these halls?
Only three years since I wore the title,
"Lowly Frosh?"
Can it be just two years since I labored
over Geometry and Biology?
Is it possible that it's been a year since football posters and Prom decorations?
Ring Ceremony - was it way back in September-
Or was it only Yesterday?
Soon I'll leave, and yet does one ever leave memories of Yesterday?

LIFE

I am life. I exist in you.
I speak to you in many ways.
Will you listen?

I am love. I was given to you at birth and I grow in you.
I am the very meaning of live.

I am sorrow. I bring tears to your eyes or an ache deep within your heart and soul.

I am happiness. I put a smile on your face and a sparkle in your eye.

I bring laughter to your lips.

I am pride. I give you the self-respect and the perseverance to do all that God intended you to do.

I am experience. I teach you
by your every encounter
the ways of living.

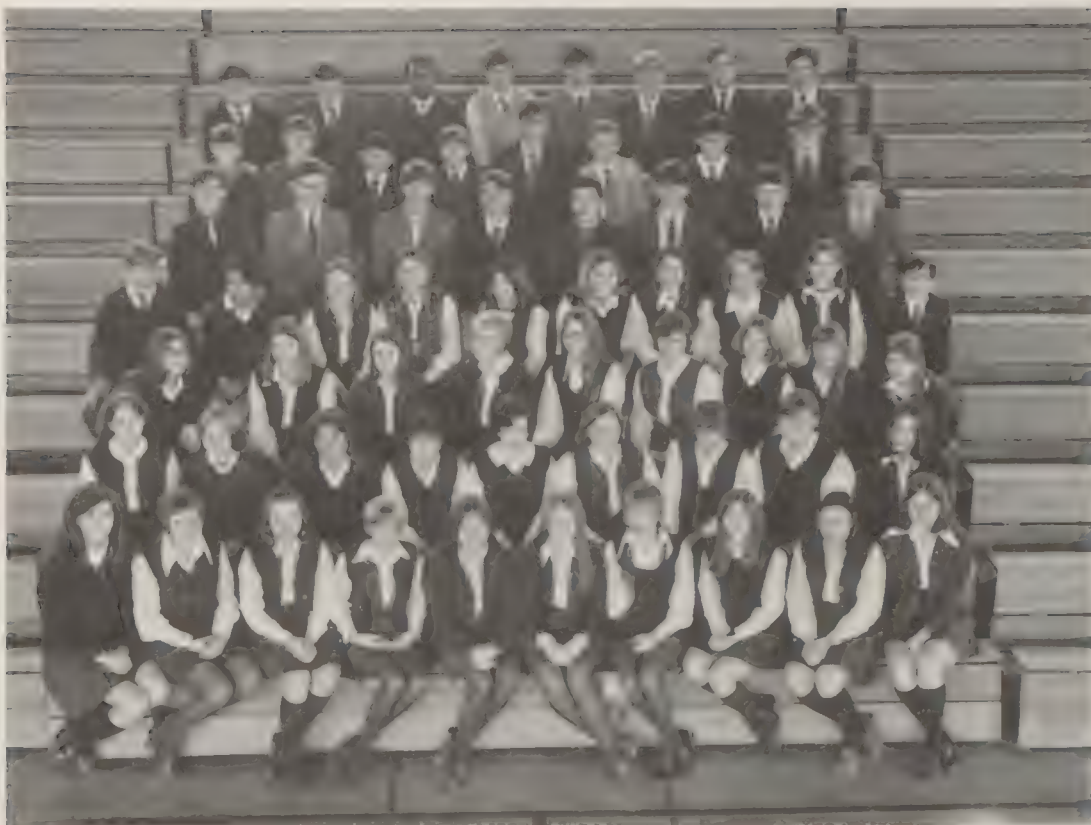

I am life. I exist in you.
I am speaking to you.
Answer me.

Tomorrow begins with Yesterday's end,
With the final curtain on the drama
of today.

It begins with a lesson well-learned,
Whether at school or at home.
It ends with a mind unwilling
To accept anything new.

Tomorrow starts as strong minds
Enjoy the wonder of knowledge,
While older minds try to teach them
With patience.

Lou Ellen Maloney '71

Yesterday gives of its experience;
Tomorrow gratefully accepts.
Yesterday ends with a frown;
Tomorrow begins with a smile.

Yesterday's examples tell
Tomorrow to step and learn.
Learn understanding, tolerance,
and love for your fellow man.

Yesterday says slow down and Strive for a happier future.
For there is no end to Yesterday;
Only a reaching for Tomorrow.
